LOCUST HILL FARM - 1939 - One quarter mile north of Butler Road entrance 0.75 mile east of Dover Road. The house is an adaptation of 18th Century New York architecture. It is the dwelling of a stud farm and training farm which produced the tragic champion Ruffian (destroyed at Belmont Park track, July 6, 1975). Five second-story rooms burned out on November 18, 1978, but owners escaped. Owner: Barbara Phipps (Mrs. Stuart Symington) Janney.
